A WORD FROM THE PRESIDENT

High among the concerns of the campus community is the quality of our life together. It may even be the highest concern?

For liberal arts education has many aims; but among them is enabling one to understand what is – and motivating one to become? – a humane person. And it comes to personal question in the quality of our life together.

Community life-style that is mutually wholesome and joyous doesn't come unplanned, haphazardly. We're not built like that: this isn't paradise, and we're not perfect. It takes hard work, for most of us; and good patterns, shaped by many hands, tested by all kinds of people – for we are all kinds of people.

This handbook is a reflection of that kind of hard work. It, too, is not perfect; and perhaps we can improve it together. Until we do, these are the patterns we have, and in them we'll live and work together here.

Have a good year!

Donald A. Webb

President

EXPECTATIONS OF CENTENARY COLLEGE FOR ITS STUDENTS

INTRODUCTION

Each person enrolled as a student in Centenary College is expected to conduct himself/herself in a manner which is acceptable to an ordered society and in a manner which is compatible with the function of the College as an educational institution.

Social rules and regulations at Centenary have as their object the development of students as moral, intelligent, responsible members of an academic community and, extensionally, of the nation. To accomplish this, it is necessary that the rules themselves reflect true morality, intelligence, and responsibility by calling for high standards of self-discipline and habit formation in all personal and social practices which might be listed.

Students who are enrolled in the College are subject to the rules and regulations of the College while on campus. It is the responsibility of the students to become familiar with this handbook and the various documents to which reference is made. Any student failing to abide by College regulations is subject to disciplinary action by the authorized bodies and officials of the College.

GENERAL COLLEGE REGULATIONS

AUTOMOBILES ON CAMPUS

All students who desire to operate their vehicles on campus must register them in the Business Office located in Hamilton Hall. Vehicle registration should be completed at the time of registration for course work; there is a $10.00 fee for parking privileges. In order to register a motor vehicle, you will need to present a valid driver's license, evidence of liability insurance, and the license plate number of your vehicle. Detailed campus traffic regulations will be found on pages 16-20. It is the responsibility of each student to become familiar with and abide by these regulations.

DEAD WEEK

Dead Week, the week prior to Exam Week at the end of the fall and spring terms, has some unique features. During this week, classes meet on their regular schedules, but no papers or tests may be assigned. Outside the classroom during both Dead Week and Exam Week, no campus or required attendance activities are scheduled nor may any organization hold a meeting or schedule a function of any sort; however, Student-Faculty Discipline Committee, Judicial Board, any Dorm Council meeting for judicial purposes only and Honor Court are exceptions to this rule. Dead Week for Fall, 1980 extends from December 2 at 6:00 p.m. through December 5. During Spring, 1981, Dead Week is May 7 though 12; however, between 6:00 p.m. Friday, May 8 and 6:00 p.m. Sunday, May 10 is not governed by Dead Week regulations.

FOOD SERVICE

All students who live in the college residence halls or Greek houses are required to purchase meal tickets.

HOUSING

All full-time students are required to live on campus except students living with their immediate family (parents, grandparents, aunts or uncles), married students, divorced students, and students who are 22 years of age or older before or by mid-semester of the time they wish to live off campus. The following exceptions to this policy must be approved by the Dean of Students on or before registration:

1. Students who are two-year veterans
2. Students whose employment requires off campus living
3. Students whose physicians state that they are required to live off campus for medical reasons or whose prescribed diet cannot be met by our Food Service.
4. A specified number (to be determined by the Dean of Students) living in fraternity housing. Those students living in fraternity housing must purchase meal tickets.

Where there are empty rooms in the residence halls they will be made available to students (on a seniority basis) as private rooms at the rate of $490 per semester—$140 per semester above the present double room occupancy rate of $350 per semester. However, single occupancy is not guaranteed any student at any time and is to be considered a privilege rather than a right.

Room assignments are made according to the following steps:

1. Housing applications are mailed to all resident students. Questions include the specific room requested and the preference for private or double occupancy. The student has the opportunity to state such preferences as a roommate who does not smoke cigarettes, one who wants music while studying, etc.

2. Requests are met in accordance with the following priorities, in this order: present occupancy, classification with seniority privileges and date of receipt of application. If application is not made by specified deadline, the student forfeits priority on present room.

3. Double occupancy requests have priority over single occupancy requests.
4. After the deadline for returning applications, assignments are made on a first application received basis although the upperclass students maintain priority over incoming students.
5. Private rooms are offered as long as they are available with priority given to seniority classification coupled with the return of the application prior to deadline.
6. When assignments have been made, students are mailed a room contract which must be signed and returned within a stated time period.
7. Students whose roommates withdraw before registration will be assigned another roommate. Personal choice will be honored whenever possible.
8. Students whose roommates leave after registration will be given the option of taking a new roommate, moving in with another student who needs a roommate, or paying for single occupancy. The Dean of Students staff will assist the student who faces these choices. Extenuating circumstances will be given consideration.

A room change request is considered first as a counseling situation and it is hoped that students will learn to settle their differences and live together. A change is made only with the approval of the Dean of Students. A $10 room change fee will be assessed each student making a room change after mid-semester.

I.D. CARDS

I.D. cards are non-transferable. If the I.D. card is found in the possession of a person other than the owner, the card will be confiscated. The card is issued when you enter Centenary and must be validated for each semester or session that you are registered for courses. At the end of each semester, resident students should turn their I.D.'s in to their residence hall staff; non-resident students should turn their I.D.'s in to the Assistant Dean of Students. When a student graduates or leaves for any other reason the card must be turned in to the Business Office. Failure to return the card at that time will result in the withholding of transcripts.

KEYS

Under normal circumstances, a student should have in his possession only the key to his residence hall room. Unusual circumstances may require students to have other College keys; however, in such cases, permission must be obtained from the responsible staff member who will order, deliver and later collect the key.

Students are not permitted to duplicate any key to any lock or door on campus.

Students are not permitted to enter any residence hall room other than their own without the express permission of the resident(s) of the room. The resident(s) giving the permission must notify the staff member that it is permissable for a particular person to enter the room in the resident's absence.

All keys to any College lock, door, or other property must be returned no later than the end of the spring semester. Students who fail to return the room key to their Resident Director or who fail to return other College keys to the specified staff member at the end of each semester will either be billed for or will have deducted from their room deposits the cost of labor and materials associated with the installation of a new lock and the making of new keys.

POSTERS AND PUBLICITY

No posters or other forms of publicity may be displayed or distributed on the campus by persons or organizations other than official Centenary College organizations unless express permission of an official of the College has been obtained. Any damage done to College property by the display of posters or any cleaning that needs to be done as the result of publicity materials littering the campus will be paid by the organization or individual responsible.

Special areas for and methods of publicizing College activities will be determined by the Student Senate. Violation of restrictions on publicity may result in disciplinary action.

Salesmen are not permitted to solicit on the campus without written permission from the Dean of Students. Students as well as staff should ask any solicitor for proof of written permission from the Dean of Students. Should a residence group want a salesman to present or demonstrate a particular product in the residence lobby, the Dorm Council should notify the Dean of Students. This same procedure also covers solicitation of donations.

Students desiring to sell products in order to earn money toward their education or College organizations conducting fund-raising projects may apply to the Dean of Students for special permission to sell products.

SMOKING

Smoking is not permitted in instructional areas during regularly scheduled classes.

Use, possession, or distribution of alcoholic beverages in or on any College property.

GENERAL RESIDENCE HALL INFORMATION AND REGULATIONS WHICH PERTAIN TO BOTH MEN AND WOMEN

The Dean of Students is responsible for the operation of the residence halls. The Dean of Students provides counseling to students, makes room assignments, selects and trains the residence hall staff members and processes reports of alleged student misconduct. The Resident Directors and the Resident Assistants communicate with residents regarding the College and its services.Under the guidance of Dr. Mark Dulle, the Resident Assistants are trained to be peer counselors and advisers. It is also the responsibility of the residence staff to report residents whom they observe to be in violation of College expectations.

Custodial services include cleaning of bathrooms and halls and the emptying of trash receptacles daily on weekdays. It is the responsibility of each student to keep his own room clean, to report maintenance problems and damages to furnishings to the Director or Resident Assistant. Only in the case of emergency and in the absence of any staff member should the individual student call for maintenance services. The number to call then is 5286 between 8:00 a.m. and 4:30 p.m. weekdays.

WALL HANGINGS AND DECALS

Posters and pictures may be hung on the walls only with the use of thumb tacks. Damages will be assessed for use of any material which defaces the walls or ceilings. Ceiling hangings are a fire hazard and therefore may not be used. Decals may be used on glass surfaces only, but must be removed when the student vacates the room. Decals may not be applied to wooden or painted surfaces or lamps.

APPLIANCES

No appliance with exposed heating elements and no multiple socket plugs may be used in any residence hall room.

FOOD

Public health regulations prohibit the storage of food in bathroom areas. No uncovered containers of food may be stored in residence hall rooms. No cooking is permitted in the residence hall except in designated kitchen areas. Cooking even in these areas may not be a substitute for the meal plan. No perishable food should be left in the room during vacation periods.

RESIDENCE HALL CLOSING

Residence halls are officially closed for the breaks between fall term and interim, spring and summer terms, and summer and fall terms. It is expected that all students will vacate the residence halls during these times. In emergency cases students may be allowed to remain in their rooms if staff personnel is available and permission is granted by the Dean of Students. During the times the dormitories are officially closed, the opposite sex visitation policy is suspended. Any opposite-sex visitation at these times will be considered a violation of College regulations.

THEFT

The College is not responsible for theft of personal property from residence hall rooms or elsewhere on college property. The Resident Directors have Missing Item(s) Report Forms which the student should complete when belongings are missing.

ROOM DEPOSIT

A $50.00 room deposit is required of all resident students and is retained as a general housing deposit as long as the student resides on campus. The room deposit will be held until the end of the last semester a student attends the College, at which time it will be used to pay for any repairs or replacements of damaged furniture or fixtures for which the student is responsible. All damage charges assessed to a student prior to that time will be billed to his regular account. Charges for loss or damage of equipment or defacement of any community used area such as lounges, recreation rooms, corridors or bathrooms may be assessed equally against the residents of the area.

Deadlines for requesting the refund of housing deposits are June 1 for fall, May 1 for summer, December 1 for interim and spring. Please note that room rent is not refundable.

ROOM CHANGES

A request for a room change is normally considered as a counseling situation. The residence staff and the Dean of Students are concerned and ready to help. A fee of $10.00 will be assessed for any change occuring after the date mid-semester grades are due.

ROOM FURNISHINGS

No furniture, including mattresses, may be moved from one room to another. College furniture may normally not be physically altered in any way. However, provision has been made for students to substitute a College bed with a homemade bed as long as specifics prepared by the Superintendent of the Physical Plant have been properly met. See your Resident Director if you are interested. For safety reasons, such fire and safety hazards as candles or any other lighted item, such as incense, which unattended could cause a fire, ceiling hangings and partially obstructed doorways are not allowed in residence rooms.

ROOM INSPECTION

At Centenary, you have the right to privacy in your own room. However, in order to meet emergency situations, to make routine maintenance or fire hazard inspections, to maintain minimum health and safety standards and to enforce pertinent regulations, the College reserves the right to enter students' rooms. Each semester residence hall staff inventories all residence rooms and furnishings. This detailed inventory includes previous damages and the amount and type of furniture. Re-evaluation will be made by the residence hall staff when room changes occur, during breaks and during the semester on notice. The residence hall staff, on notice to the student, may check a room at any time for health and safety reasons. However, entrance to a student's room for reasons other than health, safety or maintenance must be authorized by the Dean of Students.

SAFETY AND HEALTH MEASURES

It is against the regulations of the College to tamper with fire equipment of any kind and each student should accept personal responsibility for reporting anyone who does.

Every student should accept personal responsibility for helping to prevent false fire alarms. A series of false alarms may well encourage a situation in which an alarm pulled for an actual fire or other emergency goes unheeded. Also, everyone should recognize that some students are seriously upset by the sudden interruption of their sleep, particularly by a sound which spells danger.

Students should empty their wastebaskets whenever they are full; an overflowing wastebasket is a fire hazard.

The burning of candles and other substances such as incense is not allowed in the residence halls. Such items have been the cause of many fires.

Any student who detects an odor of burning should report this immediately to the Resident Director. Student rooms should be kept reasonably clean. Piles of soiled clothing, uncovered food and spills not cleaned up are health hazards.

Students should report illness to the RA who should also keep the Resident Director informed. Proper care may prevent the spreading of illness.

SPECIFIC AREAS OF CONDUCT FOR WHICH ANY RESIDENT STUDENT MAY BE SUBJECT TO DISCIPLINARY ACTION

OPPOSITE SEX VISITATION

All students 18 years of age and older may opt to have opposite sex visitation in their dormitory room. Visitation hours are 12:00 noon to 12:00 midnight Sunday through Thursday and 12:00 noon to 2:00 a.m. Friday and Saturday. All guests of the opposite sex who visit in student rooms should be signed in and out. Students who request no visitation are assigned rooms accordingly to assure their privacy. Residents under 18 years of age may have opposite sex visitation with parental permission. These regulations as well as all other residence and campus regulations apply to all residence halls.

LOBBY VISITATION

Students are allowed to have guests of the opposite sex in their dormitory lobby twenty-four hours a day.

OVERNIGHT GUESTS

Students may have overnight guests of the same sex; there are, however, some regulations to be observed.

1. All overnight guests must be registered with the Resident Director, even one staying in the room of the host or hostess.
2. Guests must comply with our residence and campus regulations; the student host or hostess will be responsible for any infraction of his/her guest.
3. Guests should plan to come on weekends, if at all possible.
4. Guests should stay no longer than three nights without specific permission from the Assistant to the Dean of Students.

PETS

Students are not allowed to keep pets of any type in residence halls owned or operated by Centenary College or any place on College property.

DRESS AND CONDUCT

Dress and conduct should be in good taste at all times.

BAR BELLS

At no time are there to be bells or any weight-lifting equipment in the residences. There is a weight room in the Gold Dome and Haynes Gymnasium.

MUSICAL INSTRUMENTS

The playing of musical instruments in the residence halls is forbidden except with the express permission of the Resident Director or the vote of the students who might be annoyed by noise. A student vote must be reported to the residence staff by a member of the Dorm Council.

LOBBY PIANO AND TELEVISION

The pianos may not be used during strict quiet hours and at no time may they be used for practice. The television may be used quietly at any time as long as the viewer extends courtesy and thoughtfulness for others. The residents of each hall have priority over other persons concerning television use in their respective residence halls.

RESIDENCE HALL QUIET HOURS

Each residence hall must determine quiet hours at the beginning of each year unless specific hours are stated in the residence hall constitution. Students who are inconvenienced by noise should make a request to the offenders. If noise continues, students should talk with a Resident Assistant and/or report the persons involved in the noise-making to the Dorm Council. Misconduct report forms are available from any Resident Director.

BACK DOORS

With the exception of the honors hall, the back doors to the women's buildings are locked and put on an alarm system for security purposes. Use of these doors from 8:00 p.m. to 6:30 a.m. is not permitted.

ROOF AREAS

The roof areas and all equipment rooms are off limits to all except those authorized for inspection, repair or work reasons.

EXPECTATIONS OF CENTENARY COLLEGE FOR ITS ORGANIZATIONS

INTRODUCTION

The faculty of Centenary College in collaboration with the affected organizations has adopted the following rules and regulations to define the privileges and limitations of organizations established on campus. Any organization failing to abide by these regulations, either in letter or in spirit, will be subject to disciplinary action. The Student-Faculty Discipline Committee shall have the power to decide when these regulations have been violated by a social organization and to determine any appropriate penalty.

For the first offense against these regulations listed below organizations are subject to forfeiture of pledging, initiation, induction of members, or social probation for one semester. During the semester immediately following the penalty period, the organizations will be on probation. A second offense during the probation period may result in an indefinite forfeiture of privileges; a majority vote of the faculty will be required for the reinstatement of these privileges.

GENERAL REGULATIONS

FORMING A NEW ORGANIZATION

A group wishing to form a new organization should write a constitution proposal which should then be submitted to the Student Government Association. If the SGA accepts the constitution, a probationary status of one calendar year will be given the new group. At the end of this time, the group should present to the SGA any revisions which they have made in their constitution and a summary of their probationary year. If the SGA approves, the group then becomes a recognized student organization.

MEMBERSHIP

Active membership shall be limited to full-time students matriculated at Centenary College.

ROSTER

A roster of officers of organizations must be filed in the Office of the Dean of Students in the fall; this roster must be kept up to date by the organization.

FINANCES

Contracts and assumptions of financial obligations must be approved by an alumni or faculty representative approved by the administration.

FUND RAISING PROJECTS

Any fund raising project held on campus by a student organization must be approved by the Dean of Students, Business Manager and Director of Development.

SOCIAL REGULATIONS

USE OF FACILITIES

Arrangements for facilities, including the specific details, must be made with the Dean of Students at least three days in advance of the date on which the event will be held. All activities should be placed on the College calendar as far ahead as possible to avoid conflicting dates and to receive maximum publicity. All organizations scheduling activities should check the calendar carefully for possible conflicts before scheduling their own events.

PLACE

Each organization may select whatever site desired for social functions with the following provisions:

The sponsoring organization — not Centenary College — is totally responsible for all activities held off campus.

The host organization is responsible for and liable for the conduct of its members and guests at the particular function. The College is in no way responsible for conduct or happenings at off-campus events. Liability is the sole responsibility of the sponsoring organization.

GUESTS

Non-student guests may be invited only by permission of the sponsoring organization. The organization assumes responsibility for the conduct of all guests.

PROCEDURES FOR ESTABLISHING AND MODIFYING EXPECTATIONS FOR STUDENTS

INTRODUCTION

Centenary College has established a channel of communication through which students should proceed in order to either establish or modify the expectations the College holds for them.

The channel for modifications goes through the Student Senate to the Committee on Student Life. From this committee the channel continues through the faculty to the President of the College.

The diagram on Page 9 depicts this channel of communication.

ROLE OF THE STUDENT GOVERNMENT ASSOCIATION

Any student who believes the expectations which Centenary College holds for him are inadequate may approach the Student Senate in person or through a senator and express his convictions. If successful, he may engage the cooperation of the Senate in presenting his aims to the Committee on Student Life. Additionally, the Student Senate may bring before the Committee on Student Life, without outside suggestion, such additions or modifications of Centenary College expectations as it may deem appropriate. Technical aspects of the Student Senate and its procedures are stated in its constitution and bylaws.

ROLE OF THE COMMITTEE ON STUDENT LIFE

It is the role of the Committee on Student Life to receive all proposed additions and modifications to the expectations Centenary College holds for its students, to review the contents of these proposals, and to develop and present a recommendation to members of the faculty for their decision.

The Chairman of the Committee on Student Life is then responsible for communicating the decision of the faculty to the President of the College for his decision. Technical aspects of the Committee on Student Life and its procedure are stated in its guidelines.

In the event that the President of the College does not approve a proposal from the Committee on Student Life and the faculty does not choose to consider this proposal, it becomes the responsibility of the Committee on Student Life to either accept the decision of the President of the College as final or to negotiate directly with him until a proposal is submitted which meets his approval. The dotted line in the diagram on Page 9 reflects this negotiation channel. Technical aspects of the Committee on Student Life and its procedures are stated in the committee's guidelines.

ROLE OF THE FACULTY

The faculty receives from the Committee on Student Life those proposals in need of faculty consideration. It is the role of the members of the faculty to approve or reject the contents of these proposals and to communicate the faculty decisions to both the Student Senate and to the President of the College through the Committee on Student Life.

ROLE OF THE PRESIDENT

The President of the College, after a review of each proposal submitted to him, will make a decision regarding the acceptability of that proposal. Traditionally, the president does not establish rules and regulations governing student life on campus. Rather, he more often acts as a reviewing agent or authority, rarely using his veto power. He should in this role, understand and interpret the points of view of students, faculty, and Board of Trustees, and with sound counsel aid them in establishing and maintaining a program of student life that works for the benefit of the entire College community. His decisions are communicated to the chairman of the Committee on Student Life who will in turn notify all parties.

PROCEDURES OF CENTENARY COLLEGE FOR INSURING DUE PROCESS

INTRODUCTION

Centenary College is dedicated to the proposition that personal responsibility is one of several characteristics necessary to a college learning experience. It is anticipated that the majority of the students, when told of the expectations of the College, will choose to abide by them. Inevitably, however, there will be those students who choose to do otherwise.

In order to insure that due process is afforded those who choose to act contrary to these expectations, the College has established a judicial system the form of which is depicted in the chart on Page 9. Technical aspects of students rights, freedoms and responsibilities are covered in the statement by that name.

The Honor Court is responsible for hearing cases of suspected academic misconduct. Technical aspects of the Honor Court and its procedures are stated in its constitution.

The Judicial Referral Board, made up of the Dean of Students, the Chairman of the Judicial Board and the Chairman of the Student-Faculty Discipline Committee, is responsible for the referral of cases of alleged student misconduct to the Residence Hall Councils, the Judicial Board or the Student-Faculty Discipline Committee.

ROLE OF THE JUDICIAL BOARD

The Judicial Board is responsible for hearing and acting upon cases referred to the group by the Judicial Referral Board and which involve specific areas of conduct for which any student may be subject to disciplinary action and for hearing and acting upon appeals to cases heard by a Residence Hall Council. These specific areas of conduct appear on Page 3. Technical aspects of the Judicial Board and its procedures are stated in the Student Government Association and Judicial Board Constitutions. In the event a student whose case was heard by the Judicial Board is dissatisfied with the decision of the Board, he may appeal the decision to the Student-Faculty Discipline Committee.

ROLE OF THE STUDENT-FACULTY DISCIPLINE COMMITTEE

The duties of the Student-Faculty Discipline Committee include considering and deciding upon all cases of midconduct referred by the Dean of Students. Allowable penalties include suspension and expulsion. The committee also decides upon appeals resulting from other disciplinary action. If a student questions the fairness of disciplinary action taken against him by a judicial body, he should be granted, on request, the privilege of a hearing before this committee. Technical aspects of the Student-Faculty Discipline Committee and its procedures are stated in its guidelines. In the event a student is dissatisfied with a decision of the Committee, he may appeal the decision to the President of the College.

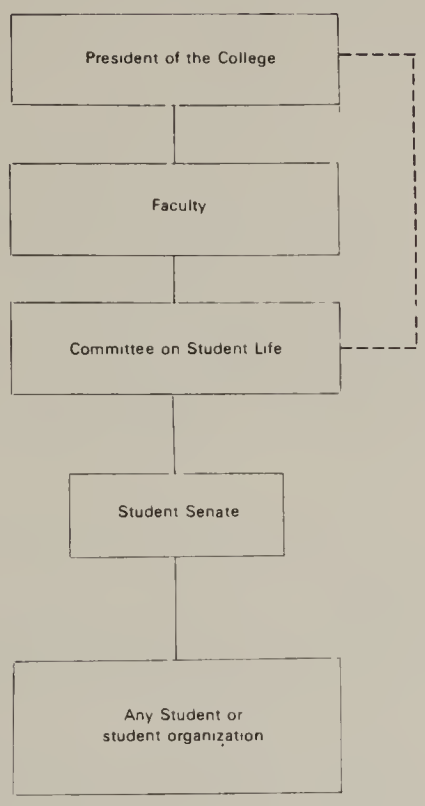
ROLE OF THE PRESIDENT OF THE COLLEGE

The President is included in the due process procedure for students who have violated behavioral policies of the College. He is available as a "last" on-campus source of appeal from a decision or review of the Student-Faculty Discipline Committee.

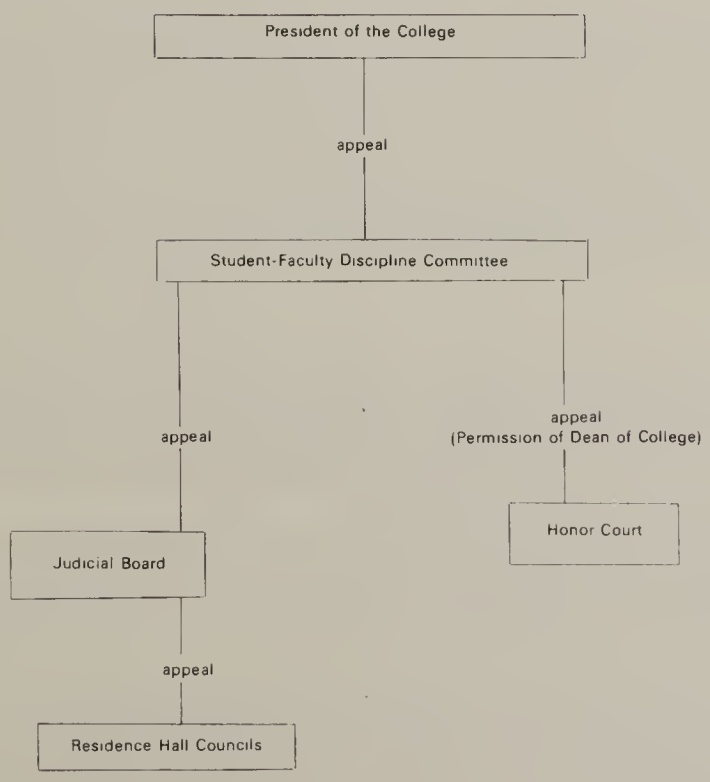
Also inherent in the office of the President is the obligation to take whatever measures may be necessary to protect the well-being and integrity of the College and its members. Of course, this obligation is reserved for emergency circumstances only.

Nothing herein contained shall be regarded as detracting from the traditional plenary powers of the President of the College and, notwithstanding anything to the contrary herein contained, the President of the College may on his own initiative and at his own discretion immediately and without any procedural requirements whatsoever suspend or expel the student, or otherwise suspend or terminate his right to be present on the campus, or to attend classes. Such action is subject to review by the Student-Faculty Discipline Committee, but the status of the student pending final action shall remain that in which he has been placed by the President.

CHANNEL OF COMMUNICATIONS FOR ESTABLISHING OR MODIFYING EXPECTATIONS FOR CENTENARY COLLEGE STUDENTS



JUDICIAL SYSTEM OF CENTENARY COLLEGE



STATEMENT OF STUDENT RIGHTS, FREEDOMS AND RESPONSIBILITIES (WITH MINOR CHANGES FOR THE PARTICULAR SITUATION AT CENTENARY)

Centenary College exists for the transmission of knowledge, the pursuit of truth, the development of students, and the general well-being of society. Free inquiry and free expression are indispensable to the attainment of these goals. As members of the academic community, students should be encouraged to develop the capacity for critical judgment and to engage in a sustained and independent search for truth. The freedom to learn depends upon appropriate opportunities and conditions in the classroom, on the campus, and in the larger community. Students should exercise their freedom with responsibility. The responsibility to secure and to respect general conditions conducive to the freedom to learn is shared by all members of the academic community.

The guidelines which follow are expressions of attitudes only and should be understood in the context of the whole educational mission of the College, including as relevant its educational activities and practices that pertain outside as well as within the classroom. They should be interpreted in such a manner as to give full consideration to the rights and concerns of all segments of the academic community, rather than to concede absolute autonomy to the student sector, when matters of proper concern to the academic community as a whole are involved.

I. FREEDOM OF ACCESS TO HIGHER EDUCATION

Within the limits of its facilities, Centenary College is open to all students who are qualified according to its admission standards. The facilities and services of the College are open to all of its enrolled students.

II. IN THE CLASSROOM

The professor in the classroom and in conference should encourage free discussion, inquiry, and expression. Student performance should be evaluated solely on the basis of academics and not on opinions or conduct in matters unrelated to academic standards.

A. Protection of Freedom of Expression: Students should be free to take reasoned exception to the data or views offered in any course of study and to reserve judgment about matters of opinion, but they are responsible for learning the context of any course of study for which they are enrolled.

B. Protection Against Improper Academic Evaluation: Students should have protection through orderly procedure against prejudiced or capricious academic evaluation.At the same time, they are responsible for maintaining standards of academic performance established for each course in which they are enrolled.

C. Protection Against Improper Disclosure: Information about student views, beliefs, and political associations which professors acquire in the course of their work as instructors, advisers, and counselors should be considered confidential. Protection against improper disclosure is a serious professional obligation. Judgments of ability and character may be provided under appropriate circumstances, normally with the knowledge or consent of the student.

III. STUDENT RECORDS

Transcripts of academic records should contain only information about the academic status of the student and such action by the College, as suspension or expulsion for academic or disciplinary reasons which affect the student's eligibility to register at the College. Information from counseling or disciplinary files should not be available to unauthorized persons on campus, or to any person off campus without the express consent of the student involved except under legal compulsion or in cases where the safety of persons or property is involved. No records should be kept which reflect the political activities or beliefs of students. Administrative staff and faculty should respect confidential information about students which they acquire in the course of their work.

IV. STUDENT ACTIVITIES

In student activities, certain standards must be maintained if the freedom of students is to be preserved.

A. Freedom of Association: Students bring to the campus a variety of interests previously acquired and develop many new interests as members of the academic community. They should be free to organize and join those organizations which promote these interests.

1. The membership policies, and actions of a student organization usually will be determined by vote of only those persons who hold bona fide membership in the college community.
2. Affiliation with an extramural organization should not of itself disqualify a student organization from institutional approval.
3. Faculty advisers are required and each organization is free to choose its own adviser. Faculty advisers may advise organizations in the exercise of responsibility, but they should not have the authority to control the policy of such organizations.
4. Student organizations may be required to submit a statement of purpose, criteria for membership, rules of procedures, and a current list of officers. They should not be required to submit a membership list as a condition of institutional recognition.

5. Campus organizations, including those affiliated with an extramural organization, should be open to all students without respect to race, creed, or national origin, except for religious qualifications which may be required by organizations whose aims are primarily sectarian.

B. Freedom of Inquiry and Expression

1. Students and student organizations should be free to examine and discuss all questions of interest to them, and should be free to express opinions publicly and privately. They should always be free to support causes by orderly means which do not disrupt the regular and essential operation of the College. At the same time, it should be made clear to the academic and the larger community that in their public expressions or demonstrations, students or student organizations speak only for themselves.
2. Students should be allowed to invite and hear any person of their choosing, in keeping with the educational objectives of the College. Those routine procedures required by the College before a guest speaker is invited to appear on campus should be designed only to insure that there is an orderly scheduling of facilities and adequate preparation for the event, and that the occasion is conducted in a manner appropriate to an academic community. The College control of campus facilities should not be used as a device of censorship. It should provide for and make clear to the academic and larger community that sponsorship of guest speakers does not necessarily imply approval of, endorsement of, or agreement with the views expressed, either by the individual, sponsoring group, or institution.

C. Student Participation in College Government: As members of the academic community, students should be free, individually or collectively, to express their views on issues of institutional policy and on matters of general interest to the student body. Students should have representation on all committees of the College except Administrative Committees and the Faculty Personnel and Economic Policy Committee. The actions of the student government within the areas of its jurisdiction should be reviewed through orderly and prescribed procedures.

D. Student Publications: Student publications are a valuable aid in establishing and maintaining an atmosphere free and responsible discussion and of intellectual exploration of the campus. They are a means of bringing student concerns to the attention of the faculty and the College authorities and of formulating student opinion on various issues on the campus and the world at large.

Centenary College, a publisher of the student publications, may have to bear the legal responsibility for the contents of the publications. In the delegation of editorial responsibility to students, the College must provide sufficient editorial freedom and financial autonomy for the student publication to maintain its integrity of purpose as a vehicle for free inquiry and free expression in the academic community.

The editorial freedom of student editors and managers entails corollary responsibilities to be governed by the canons of responsible journalism, such as the avoidance of libel, indecency, undocumented allegations, attacks on personal integrity, and the techniques of harrassment and innuendo. As safeguards for the editorial freedom of student publications the following provisions are necessary:

1. The student press should be free of censorship and advance copy approval, and its editors and managers should be free to develop their own editorial policies and news coverage.
2. Editors and managers of student publications should be protected from arbitrary suspension and removal because of student, faculty, administrative, or public disapproval of editorial policy or content. Only for proper and stated causes should editors and managers be subject to removal. The Student Publications Committee is responsible for the appointment of editors and managers and should be the agency responsible for their removal.
3. All College published and financed student publications should explicitly state on the editorial page that the opinions there expressed are not necessarily those of the College or the student body at large.

V. OFF-CAMPUS FREEDOM OF STUDENTS

A. Exercise of Rights of Citizenship: College students are both citizens and members of the academic community. As citizens, students should enjoy the same freedoms of speech, peaceful assembly, and right of position that other citizens enjoy, and as members of the academic community they are subject to the obligations which accrue to them by virtue of this membership.

Faculty and administative officials should insure that College powers are not employed to inhibit such intellectual and personal development to students as is often promoted by their exercise of the rights of citizenship both on and off campus.

B. College Authority and Civil Penalties: Activities of students may upon occasion result in violation of law. In such cases, College officials should apprise students of sources of legal counsel and may offer other assistance. Students who violate the law may incur penalties prescribed by civil authorities and while College authority should not be used merely to duplicate the function of general laws. College action shall not be precluded merely because the student has violated the civil statute. Only where the College interests as an academic community are distinct and clearly involved should the special approval of the College be assessed. The student who incidentally violates College regulations in the course of his off-campus activity, such as those relating to class attendance, should be subject to no greater penalty than would normally be imposed. College action should be independent of community pressure.

VI. PROCEDURAL STANDARDS IN DISCIPLINARY PROCEEDINGS

In developing responsible student conduct, disciplinary proceedings play a substantial role secondary to example, counseling, guidance, and admonition. At the same time, the College has a duty and the corollary disciplinary powers to protect its educational purpose through the setting of standards of scholarship and conduct for the student and through the regulation for the use of College facilities. In the exceptional circumstances when the preferred means fail to resolve problems of student conduct, proper procedural safeguards should be observed to protect the student from unfair imposition of serious penalties.

The Administration of discipline should guarantee procedural fairness to an accused student. Practices in disciplinary cases may vary in formality with the gravity of the offense and the sanctions which may be applied. The jurisdictions of student judicial bodies, the disciplinary responsibilities of College officials and the regular disciplinary procedures, including the student's right to appeal a decision are clearly formulated and appear in this publication. Minor penalties may be assessed informally under prescribed procedures.

A. Standards of Conduct Expected of Students: The College has an obligation to clarify those standards of behavior which it considers essential to its educational mission and its community life. These general behavorial expectations and the resultant specific regulations should represent a reasonable regulation of student conduct but the student should be as free as possible from imposed limitations that have no direct relevance to his education. Offenses should be as clearly defined as possible and interpreted in a manner consistent with the aforementioned principles of relevance and reasonableness. Disciplinary proceedings should be instituted only for violations of standards of conduct formulated with significant student participation and published in advance through the student handbook and College catalogue.

B. Investigation of Student Conduct:

1. Except under extreme emergency circumstances, premises occupied by students and personal possessions of students should not be searched unless appropriate authorization has been obtained from the Dean of Students. The search application should specify the reasons for the search and the object or information sought. The student should be present, if possible, during the search. For premises not controlled by the College, the ordinary requirements for lawful search should be followed.
2. Students detected or arrested in the course of serious violations of College regulations, or infractions of ordinary law, should be informed of their rights. No form of harassment should be used by College representatives to coerce admissions of guilt or information about conduct of other suspected persons.
3. Nothing herein contained shall be regarded as detracting from the traditional plenary powers of the President of the College and, notwithstanding anything to the contrary herein contained, the President of the College may on his own initiative and at his own discretion immediately and without any procedural requirements whatsoever suspend or expel the student, or otherwise suspend or terminate his right to be present on the campus, or to attend classes. Such action is subject to review by the Student-Faculty Discipline Committee, but the status of the student pending final action shall remain that in which he has been placed by the President.

FINANCIAL AID

Part-time jobs under the federal College Work-Study Program are processed through the Financial Aid Office. Off campus part-time jobs are co-ordinated by the Placement Director.

The Anna Ruth Nuttall Small Loan Fund, a fund established by the family and friends of the late Dr. Anna Ruth Nuttall, Assistant Professor of Bible and English at the College from 1945 until her death in 1952, is available for students in most cases. Students should apply to the Dean of Students. Ordinarily the amount loaned will be a maximum of $25.00, although there are special provisions permitting College authorities to lend larger sums from the fund when an emergency exists.

HEALTH SERVICES

By special arrangement with the Rushing-Risinger Clinic at 2020 Centenary Boulevard, Centenary College students who feel ill may at any time call the Clinic at 221-1643. If the student feels unable to do this, he should ask the Resident Director or the Resident Assistant to make the call from the student's room so that questions may be asked and answered. Upon identification as a Centenary student, a nurse will screen the call. If it seems necessary for the student to be seen by one of the physicians that day, an appointment will be made. Otherwise, the student will be given instructions to follow and told when to call back if he is not better. One of the physicians may order a prescription for the student after reviewing the symptoms. Telephone calls made at night and at other times when the Clinic is closed will be taken by the physician on duty; one of the doctors is always available. Should an emergency situation exist or the student seems to be seriously ill, the physician will make arrangements to meet the student at the emergency room of Physicians and Surgeons Hospital at 1530 Line Avenue. As there is no student health fee to cover a campus physician, office visits as well as hospital service by the physician will be at the expense of the student.

Each student always has the right to choose his own doctor and a full list of local physicians and surgeons may be found in the classified section of the telephone directory. Students may wish to ask their home physician for a specific referral in Shreveport. The staffs of Doctors, Physicians and Surgeons, and Schumpert Hospitals have been given the names of doctors to contact when a Centenary student arrives for emergency treatment. The physicians and the hospitals where they may be seen in an emergency are listed below.

During these periods students call for their mail at the Post Office. Large parcels and newspapers must be picked up by the student at the Post Office. Box numbers and combinations are issued on registration day during the fall semester. Persons not assigned box numbers at registration should check with the Post Office personnel for an assignment. Notification should be given prior to departure from campus.

CENTENARY JEWISH STUDENTS

Jewish students at Centenary College are cordially invited to attend services and participate in the life of local synagogues. Temple B'nai Zion (Reform) and Agudath Achim (Conservative).

METHODIST STUDENT MOVEMENT

As a liberal arts college related to the United Methodist Church, Centenary understands its historical and educational foundations to be grounded in the Christian faith. One expression of that special relationship is a religious activities program on campus that offers opportunities for personal growth in the lives of students and faculty. At Centenary that program is guided by the Office of the Chaplain, with the Reverend Robert Ed Taylor serving as Chaplain to the College. The program of religious activities involves a multi-directional approach to the needs of growing persons. Groups and structures are provided that center upon worship, Holy Communion, personal growth, Bible study, fellowship, intellectual challenges, recreation and counseling. The term Methodist Student Movement serves as an umbrella to cover these various structures. Yet, it is important to note that all of these programs are ecumenically oriented. Students from all kinds of religious traditions and those from none are welcomed and involved. The focus of all of these structures and groups is persons -- accepted and affirmed in the depths of God's love. Varied theologies and religious views are represented. ALL are welcome.

Tuesday Communion -- On each Tuesday at 11:10 a.m. Holy Communion is served in the small chapel adjacent to Brown Memorial Chapel. This celebration is open to all who desire to participate.

Wednesday Worship -- Each Wednesday evening at 10:00 p.m. students break away for an informal worship time in the steeple of Brown Chapel. Student-led, the service seeks to challenge participants in the midst of the busy week.

Snoopy's Hour -- On Thursday evening from 5:00 - 6:30 p.m. a large group of campus folk gather in the Kilpatrick Auditorium of the Smith Building for supper followed by programs designed to inform, inspire and build community.

Bible Study Group -- Seeing the Scriptures as images and models for faith and life, small groups meet to probe the depths for insight and direction.

STUDENT UNION BUILDING AND COFFEEHOUSE

The coffeehouse, located in the Moore Student Union, offers a relaxing atmosphere away from classes for students, faculty and staff. Operated by student workers responsible to the Director of Student Activities, a member of the Dean of Students staff, the coffeehouse provides minimally priced beverages, sandwiches and packaged snacks. Entertainment is scheduled frequently and students who wish to perform should contact the Director of Student Activities in the Activities Office, Student Union Building.

The Student Union Building offers ping pong, pool, table games, electrical games and magazines and newspapers to full-time students who present their I.D. to the student worker. Many special activities are planned during the year by the Activities Director working with the SGA Entertainment Chairman, other campus organizations, or any group of interested students.

In addition to the Post Office and Bookstore, the Student Union Building houses offices for the Student Activities Director, the Conglomerate, the Yoncopin and KSCL.

TESTING

The College Psychology Department provides a testing service to all interested students to help clarify problem areas and to determine special needs and vocational interests.

MOTOR VEHICLE POLICY

A. The operation of a motor vehicle on the Centenary campus is a PRIVILEGE granted by the College and is not an inherent right of any faculty/staff member, student or visitor. In the interest of safe and courteous motor vehicle operation, and in an effort to create the best possible conditions for those authorized to bring motor vehicles upon the campus, the College has adopted and enforces the regulations described below. It is the responsibility of the driver to familiarize himself or herself with these regulations, as the individual shall be held responsible for any infraction thereof.

B. Parking and traffic regulations are approved by the College Parking and Traffic Committee, which consists of representatives of the student body, faculty, administration and staff. Any faculty member, student, staff member or visitor may present in writing recommendations for changes of, or additions to the campus parking and traffic regulations. Such suggestions should be forwarded to the Committee on Parking and Traffic prior to May 1st of the current year.

Centenary College assumes no responsibility for the care and/or protection of any vehicle or its contents at any time while it is parked or operated on the grounds of the College. No liability shall be created by the granting of any parking or operating privileges on any property owned, leased or otherwise controlled by Centenary College.

Centenary College reserves the right to remove or to have removed any vehicle which is parked or operated in such a way as to cause a hazard to pedestrians or vehicular traffic or to the movement and operation of emergency equipment. The College also reserves the right to remove or to have removed a vehicle if the owner/operator persistently ignores and/or violates these regulations. The owner of such vehicle will be required to pay all costs involved in removing, impounding and storing such vehicles. The owner will also be required to produce traffic fine clearance from the Business Office.

VEHICLE REGISTRATION REGULATIONS

The College requires all faculty, staff, employees and students (full time and part time) who are in any way connected with the College to register their vehicles and secure a parking decal if they desire to park on campus lots. In order to obtain a parking decal for any motor vehicle, the registrant must possess a valid driving license.

Student vehicles will be registered and parking decals given out by the Business Office during registration for classes. Students who wish to purchase a decal after this time may do so at the Business Office. When anyone severs his connection with the College, parking privileges are immediately and automatically surrendered and the owner of the registered vehicle is responsible for removing the decal.

Owners of motorcycles must purchase and affix to their vehicle a decal, preferably on the fender or the side of the motorcycle. This decal is for identification purposes only. These vehicles may not be parked in bonafide parking spaces, but may be parked in parking lot corners which are not regular parking spaces. There are no restrictions according to parking lots for these vehicles. These vehicles may not be operated on the sidewalks or the grass of the College campus. Violators of these regulations are subject to the same fines as motor vehicle operators. Registration fees for motorcycles will be one dollar.

The official College parking permit decal is designed for the vehicle bumper. Facing the vehicle from the rear, the decal is to be placed on the right rear bumper. If the vehicle has a rubber guard running down the middle of the bumper, place the decal on the upper half of the bumper. Example:

If the decal is not affixed in the correct position, the operator of the vehicle will be required to purchase a replacement decal and affix it correctly to the bumper.

Decals are not transferable and must be removed from the vehicle immediately on change of ownership or withdrawal from the College.

Whenever a decal has been destroyed, lost or rendered useless, the owner shall notify the Business Office of the decal number and parking lot number before he may receive a replacement.

A map of the campus, showing the parking lot locations is included as a part of this booklet. Copies will also be posted on bulletin boards in residence halls and other buildings on campus.

All members of the College community will be held responsible for knowing and complying with these regulations. The registrant of a vehicle will be held responsible for the safe operation and proper parking of his or her vehicle, regardless of who may be the operator.

The fact that a person parks in violation of these regulations and does not receive a ticket does not mean that the regulation is no longer in effect.

Any motor vehicle that has broken down on College property must be reported immediately to the Dean of Students Office. The registrant will be allowed seventy-two (72) hours for removal of such vehicle. Major mechanical repairs to vehicles on College property are prohibited.

Registration of a motor vehicle does not guarantee a parking space on campus. For Lots #2 and #4 decals sold equal exact number of spaces in the respective lots.

Mobile homes, mobile trailers, campers, converted vans, and other similar equipment are not permitted to use any parking facility for the purpose of living in that equipment.

No parking decal shall be issued to any person who owes fines and/or fees under these regulations.

All decals remain the property of Centenary College at all times and may be reclaimed for cause at any time.

Vehicles are not allowed in areas closed by use of barricades or other traffic control devices.

Loading zones, as posted, are not parking zones.

Because of the limited number of parking spaces, the use of parking lots for dead storage of any vehicle is hereby expressly forbidden. Any vehicle even though it displays a valid parking decal, not moved for a period of seven (7) days will be subject to removal from the Centenary College campus.

The speed limit on campus is fifteen (15) miles per hour.

Pedestrians shall AT ALL TIMES have the right of way.

No person shall park or operate a motor vehicle on the campus in such a manner which would cause damage to any College property or grounds.

The operator or owner of any motor vehicle shall obey the instructions on any traffic control device applicable.

No person shall interfere with traffic enforcement or the operation of any traffic control device, Ignore any security officer's signal or instruction, tamper with, destroy or deface any traffic control device.

Bicycles may not be operated on campus sidewalks.

VEHICLE REGISTRATION FEE

Students will be charged a fee of ten ($10.00) dollars per year, effective August 1, 1978, for parking privileges on campus. This fee is not refundable. Senior and junior students have first priority on campus lots #2 and #4. Parking decals are sold on a first come, first served basis in accordance with the registration cycle used by the College. Decals purchased at mid-term will be $5.00. Decals for motorcycles will be $1.00. Replacement decals will be $1.00.

Official Centenary College vehicles and vehicles owned and operated by faculty and staff must have decals, but no charge is made for them. Faculty, staff and employees owning two vehicles may obtain a second decal from the Business Office without additional charge. Faculty, staff and College employees are expected to abide by these regulations. Should there be violations, these individuals are responsible for the payment of fines.

VIOLATIONS

Tickets will be issued to any individual in violation of the above regulations. Special emphasis is placed on the following violations, although this is not an inclusive list:

No valid Centenary College Decal on vehicle.

Speeding or driving in a reckless or careless manner.

Valid decal not correctly displayed.

Parking in lot other than the lot authorized on valid decal.

Blocking or obstructing traffic lanes, loading zones (such as the area in front of James Proper), posted areas, reserved spaces, yellow curbs, crosswalks, fire hydrants and construction area(s).

Parking and driving on grassed area or sidewalks.

Security officers have the authority to attach a Wheel Lock to a vehicle that is illegally parked on the Centenary campus. This device may also be used to prevent a vehicle from being moved until the student has paid the pending parking fine(s), or to detain a vehicle until a tow truck can arrive to tow away and impound the vehicle.

PENALTIES AND FINES FOR PARKING VIOLATIONS

The first three (3) tickets a violator receives shall result in fines one-half the regular amount if they are paid within 24 hours except for tickets received for speeding, reckless driving, and driving/parking on campus grass or walks.

There will be a fine of $20.00 for parking or driving a motor vehicle on the grass or sidewalks of the campus.

Violations are totaled each semester. The student's unpaid fines are recorded on his account and must be paid prior to registration for a subsequent semester or before transcripts or other official College records can be released.

First and Second Violation $1.00
Third Violation $5.00

ELECTIONS COMMITTEE RULES AND PROCEDURES FOR ELECTIONS

I. As a committee of the Senate, the Elections Committee has supervisory and administrative authority for all campus elections. The committee is to report, as necessary, to the Senate the committee's decisions as related to election dates, rules, and procedure. The committee has authority to establish rules of conduct for elections that are not outlined in the framework of SGA rules and procedures.

II. The committee should consist of at least ten students, including a chairman, that represent as many segments of the campus as possible. The committee will pick, with approval of the Senate, a faculty advisor to assist the committee.

III. The dates for elections will be set by the Elections Committee on days convenient to the eligible voters.

IV. The campus will be notified approximately one month in advance in the Conglomerate. This rule may be waived, if necessary, by majority vote of the Senate. Qualifications for office will be publicized and the Committee will verify a candidate's eligibility for office.

V Petitions for Senate candidacy must include twenty-five signatures of full-time students from their respective class or a petition of fifty names if they are running for an executive position (people from any class may sign petitions for executive offices). The petitions, along with a certification of grade point by the Registrar, must be turned into the Chairman of the Elections Committee no later than 4:30 p.m. ten days prior to the election. A picture and a platform may be turned in with the above if the candidate wants them placed in the Conglomerate. Petitions will not be required in the Centenary Lady and Gent or Homecoming Queen and Court elections. Gent and Lady are nominated by the student body and Homecoming Queen and Court are nominated by the members of the basketball team.

VI. A meeting will be announced by the chairman to be held with the candidates to establish campaign rules and guidelines. The committee will announce at this time the day and hour when publicity may be posted. Places in/on which campaign publicity may be posted will be stated at this meeting. No campaigning, verbal or otherwise, may be done within the building while the voting takes place. Each candidate is responsible for the material presented at this meeting.

VII. Any person desiring to run as a write-in must meet the requirements of the position he is seeking and follow the same campaign procedures and rules established in the meeting with the candidates. However, his name will not appear on the ballot.

VIII. All publicity must be removed within 24 hours after the closing of the polls in any election. A candidate is responsible for any and all literature on his behalf and any and all campaigning on his behalf.

IX. Any person desiring to contest an election must do so to the Chairman of the Elections Committee within ten days after the closing of the polls on the last day of that election. Reasons must be stated in writing, and in the event that these reasons are found sound by ⅔ vote of the Elections Committee, measures will be taken to correct the situation.

X. Failure to comply with the established campaign regulations may result in disqualification for a candidate by a ⅔ vote of the Elections Committee.

XI. A full-time student is defined as one paying a student activities fee, and only full-time students may vote in Senate elections. If the eligible voters are not defined in an accepted rule or by-law, it will be established by the committee.

XII. On the first balloting in all Senate elections except Senate class representatives (where there are 3 equal positions) the ballots will be placed in order according to the number of votes received. If no candidate has a majority vote, then the top candidates will be placed in order of votes received and added together until a majority is reached. Those top candidates will be placed on the second ballot. On the second ballot preferential voting will be used, if necessary, in order to determine the winner. For Senate class representatives, each eligible voter must vote for 3 candidates by means of checkmarking their 3 preferences. The 3 candidates receiving the largest number of votes will be the winners. Run-offs will be held in case of a tie. If a voter does not vote for 3 candidates then the ballot will be invalid.

XIII. Elections for Senate offices will be held in the Spring Semester of each year as announced by the committee. Those persons elected shall assume their posts before the end of that semester, to remain in office until after the next such election. Election of Freshman Senators will be held in the Fall Semester of each year. In case of a vacated office, positions may be filled during the general elections or a special election may be called.

HONOR COURT CONSTITUTION

(Passed 5/16/77)

ARTICLE I. HONOR CODE

Each student who enrolls in Centenary College undergraduate classes during the regular academic year becomes a part of the Centenary Honor System and is responsible to the Honor Code in both day and night classes. Thus, he becomes a member of the college community.

The Honor Code of Centenary College is founded on the idea that honor is that intangible quality which, if it pervades all phases of campus life, will tend to foster a spirit of dignity and personal integrity. Inherent in the system must be the premise that students will not tolerate a violation of the Honor Code. With such a goal, the Honor System is established with the realization that honor must be fostered and not forced, and with the awareness that it will be successful only through the combined and cooperative efforts of faculty, administration and students.

ARTICLE II. GROUNDS FOR CONVICTION FOR VIOLATION OF THE HONOR CODE

Section One. Cheating on Tests and Examinations.

1. Using notes, the textbook, or reference material during a test or examination, unless students are specifically authorized to do so by the teacher of the class.
2. Looking on the test paper of another student in the class.
3. Giving or receiving unauthorized aid verbally or in writing.

Section Two. Cheating on Papers

1. Plagiarism is defined as borrowing phrases, ideas, or other material (e.g., maps and charts) from any source without giving adequate credit;
2. Papers may not be proofread by anyone other than the author.
3. Papers may not be corrected by any typist other than the author.
4. No student may submit any work which he (or another student) has submitted for credit in any other course without permission of the second instructor.

Section Three. Failure to Adhere to Specific Requirements of Professors.

Students are responsible for finding out a professor's requirements for examinations, papers, written homework, lab reports, tutoring, and all other work as he relates them to the Honor Court. Failure to adhere to these requirements is a violation of the Honor Code.

Clarification and exceptions:

1. On papers professors may
   a. Grant that a paper be proofread by parties other than the author.
   b. Prescribe limitations on the sources to be used.
   c. Make special stipulation concerning crediting of sources.
   d. Grant permission to any student to submit any work which he or another student has submitted for credit in any other course.
2. Written homework and laboratory reports.
   a. Students may work together, provided that each member of the group understands the work being done, and the instructor has authorized this procedure.
   b. All data must be reported by the student as observed in his experiment.
   c. Professors may
      (1) Require that all or part of the assignment be done by each student individually.
      (2) Require that secondary sources consulted be credited.
3. Tutoring.
   Students must find out from a professor what kind of help may be received from tutor on assigned work.

Section Four. Failure to Appear.

If the accused, or a called witness, fails to appear, or fails to submit an adequate excuse to the Court, he shall receive an Honor Court Conviction.

ARTICLE III. PROCEDURE FOR EXAMINATIONS AND PAPERS

Suggestions by the Honor Court to alleviate suspicion of Honor Code violations:

1. Every effort should be made by the student to place himself in the classroom seating arrangement so as to minimize the suspicion of a violation.
2. Students should remove all notebooks, textbooks, and other written material from their desks. Only exam material shall be within view.
3. Students should check with professors concerning any questions about papers.
4. Permission for combined work on projects and assignments does not necessarily imply authorized collaboration on resulting papers and reports.

ARTICLE IV. FACULTY RESPONSIBILITIES:

Section One. As a member of the Centenary Community, each faculty member is responsible for reporting all cases of suspected cheating on tests, plagiarisms, and other violations of the Honor Code to a member of the Court rather than handling the case and penalty personally.

Section Two. Faculty members shall abide by the decision of the court in grading the student suspected of the violation.

Section Three. Members of the faculty who teach in the Evening Division will inform all students in any Evening Division class that they shall abide by the Honor Code in night classes.

Section Four. Faculty members shall explain all requirements for take-home tests.

ARTICLE V. ADDITIONAL FACULTY PARTICIPATION

A faculty member is urged to do the following:

1. Inform his students of regulations that apply to academic integrity in his course, and to make clear to what extent collaborative work or the exchange of aid and information (studying together, tutoring, proofreading of papers) is acceptable to him.
2. Constructively admonish a student who he feels is drifting into questionable practices in order to improve the student's understanding of his intellectual responsibility.
3. Explain directions on examinations and inform students of his whereabouts during an examination should questions arise.
4. Instruct students to write and sign the honor pledge on each test and each piece of work that is to be done independently.
5. Impress upon students their responsibility to report all suspected instances of cheating, plagiarism, or other violations of both the Honor Code and his own class regulations.

ARTICLE VI. THE PLEDGE

Students are required to write the following pledge at the end of any examination or piece of independent work:

"I have neither given nor received unauthorized aid on this examination (paper), nor have I seen anyone else do so."

If the student has received aid or has suspicion of a violation of the Honor Code, the following clause is to be added to the pledge: "....except as I shall report immediately to a member of the Honor Court."

The complete pledge will be written out in hand by the student, and should never be written until the test or paper has been completed for submission to the professor or student. Any violation shall be reported immediately to a member of the Honor Court.

ARTICLE VII. REPORTING OFFENDERS OF THE HONOR CODE

Any suspected Honor Code violation shall be reported immediately. Reports of violation of the Honor Code shall be made to any member of the Honor Court, or to the Honor Court through campus mail. All written communication must be signed, but the identity of the reporting student shall be known only to the members of the Honor Court. This Court shall be pledged not to divulge this information.

ARTICLE VIII. HEARINGS

After receiving communication of a suspected Honor Code violation, the Honor Court shall have one (1) class day to send written notice to the defendant. Upon receiving notice, the defendant shall then have three (3) class days to prepare his case. The defendant has the right to waive his three day preparation period.

All hearings shall be closed. In order to protect the identity of the reporting party, the accuser and the accused will be called at separate times.

Except under very exceptional circumstances, decisions on cases of violations of the Honor Code shall be handed down within three (3) days of the hearing.

Students and faculty members shall appear on request at Honor Court hearings. Either the defendant or plaintiff may call witnesses in their behalf, but the Honor Court shall determine whether the defendant or plaintiff may be present during the testimony or questions of their witnesses.

Findings of the Honor Court shall be published; however, in such reports of findings, facts shall be omitted which would lead to the identification of the principals involved.

A quorum in the Honor Court shall be four members. The votes of four of the members of the Honor Court in favor of conviction shall be necessary for the conviction of an accused student.

ARTICLE IX. PENALTIES

After hearings the Honor Court shall return a verdict of "guilty" or "not guilty" and shall assess penalties for Honor Code offenses as follows.

A. For conviction on the first offense the Honor Court has an option on the following penalties:
   1. Conviction, no further penalty
   2. Conviction with option to redo work. Students may redo the work with no grade assessed to the original work. The new work shall be submitted to the professor for a grade. Should the student fail to submit the new work within a time limit agreed upon by the student and the professor, the student shall receive an "F" in the work.
   3. Conviction with "F" work
   4. Conviction with "F" in course
   5. Conviction with recommendation to the Dean of the College for suspension for a semester
   6. Conviction with recommendation to the Dean of the College for expulsion from the College

The numerical value of the "F" in the above penalties shall be determined by the teacher of the course with the stipulation that the "F" be no higher than any honestly obtained "F" on the work by any member of the class (or group of classes).

B. Conviction on the second offense imposes an automatic penalty of expulsion.

ARTICLE X. APPEAL PROCEDURE

Appeal from conviction of an honor code offense shall be made to the Dean of the College within seven (7) working days of notification of conviction by presenting to him the reasons in writing for requesting reconsideration of the case. If the Dean considers the request justified, the appeal will then be heard by the joint Student-Faculty Discipline Committee, and their decision will be final.

Section Three. Presentation to New Students

The current Honor Court shall be responsible for making available an explanation of the purposes and operations of the Honor System of the College to all new students, however, it is the student's responsibility to familiarize himself with the Honor System.

Section Four. Presentation to Student Body

3. The amendment shall take effect immediately upon ratification.

GUIDELINES FOR THE HONOR SYSTEM

1. ADVANTAGES OF THE HONOR SYSTEM

We of Centenary College are proud of the fact that our students govern their own academic performance through an Honor Code which they helped to write, and which they themselves administer.

A national survey has shown that cheating occurs more often on campuses where no joint Honor System is in effect and where enforcement of honesty is left up to faculty alone. It occurs least often among students in colleges where both students and faculty participate in a functioning Honor System.

Our Honor System is a classic example of growing student participation in self-government and responsibility for administrative affairs on campus. The increased freedom it affords gives those who participate in it room to grow in maturity and responsibility, and to strengthen qualities of honesty and integrity.

Sharing with the student body in the observance and administering of the Honor Code also benefits the College faculty. Faculty and students become partners in striving toward a lofty goal, and their common striving builds an atmosphere of trust and confidence. Faculty members are also relieved of the necessity of filling the distasteful role of policeman.

We developed the Honor System at Centenary College because the students proposed the idea to the College faculty and asked that the faculty join in writing and administering a workable code. The Code was tried on an experimental basis in some departments of the College in 1953, and soon thereafter the present Honor Code was adopted as binding for all regular students of the college.

2. REQUIREMENTS AND PROCEDURES

Basically the Code provides that a student will neither cheat nor will he tolerate cheating on the part of others.

If you have registered at Centenary, you have signed a pact which automatically includes you as a part of our Honor System, binding you to its terms and committing you to uphold its principles and its provisions. You have agreed to present work for credit which is wholly and only your own. When exams are given or when you present written work and research papers, no professor or proctor should be required as a policeman to insure that the work is your own, although a teacher may do so in incidents of suspected violation of the Honor Code. Your own personal integrity is your proctor.

We administer the Code through a Student Court composed of five members and two alternates who are chosen from among nominations made by the student body and the faculty. One member is elected to preside as chief justice. At least one faculty member serves as adviser and liaison officer. The Constitution of the Honor Court provides that all violations of the Code shall be referred at once to the Court. It also provides for hearings, suitable penalties upon conviction, and appeal of conviction.

A conviction before the Honor Court for violation of the Honor Code may result in one of the following penalties: Conviction without further penalty, Honor Court F on the work, Honor Court F in the course, suspension for one semester or permanent expulsion from Centenary. Every student should thoroughly familiarize himself with the Honor Court Constitution printed in another part of The Centenary College Student Handbook in order to understand exactly what his responsibilities are under the Honor System.

If you suspect that a violation of the Honor Code has occurred, it is your obligation to inform a member of the Honor Court of this fact as soon as possible. Names of the members of the Court will be posted in each classroom. If you do not know any of these studens, you may send written notice to the Faculty Adviser, Honor Court, through campus mail.

The Honor Court Constitution and the Honor Code are printed in full detail elsewhere in The Centenary College Student Handbook, which all incoming students are expected to read carefully. The Honor System is also explained to new students during formal orientation each fall.

3. RESEARCH PAPERS AND THE HONOR SYSTEM

Most commonly, violations of the Honor Code concern plagiarism. In the interests of clarification, these guidelines are offered.

Plagiarism in any work done under the Honor System is a violation of the Honor Code, and is a serious offense.

You will be plagiarizing if (1) you are not accurate in indicating direct quotations from any source, including textbooks, or (2) you do not completely reword when you paraphrase. Rewording includes using your own language and your own sentence structure. A paraphrse should sound like you, not like the source with the words shifted around. Both quotations and paraphrasing require documentation. Any plagiarism, intentional or not, casts doubt on the honesty of all your statements.

A Short Guide to Manuscript and Documentation Form, by Allen and Colbrunn, found under 029.6, AL53s, and the MLA Style Sheet, found under 029.6, M72s, are both on permanent reserve in the library for your reference use. These pamphlets, along with the freshman English textbook and this explanation, should indicate what is not proper credit and correct form for giving credit.

Borrowing an author's ideas and putting them into your own words is paraphrasing and requires that credit be given for the ideas by means of a footnote or other clear procedure. Neither quotation marks nor indentation is used for paraphrasing. If you present another person's ideas as your own, by not giving credit, you are plagiarizing. When in doubt, footnote!

Borrowing an author's exact words is quoting and also requires a footnote or other clear credit to the source. Quotes must be placed in quotation marks, and if the quote is long, it should also be indented and single spaced. If you quote an author and do not put the quote in quotation marks or indent, you are plagiarizing even if you do give a footnote! You are borrowing not only the author's ideas, but are presenting the words as your own. You still are not giving full credit, and thus are plagiarizing. Usually, two or more distinctive and sequential words from the source should be placed in quotation marks.

Following is a reproduction of part of page 208 of Recent American Literature by Donald Heiney (Great Neck, New York: Barron's Educational Series, 1958). Following this reproduction are examples of three students' use of this reference in research papers. Two of the students, A and B, have given improper credit and therefore are guilty of plagiarism. Student C has given proper credit.

The original passage:

The awarding of the Nobel Prize to Faulkner in 1950 has brought home to the American public the fact that in Europe he is considered the foremost living American author; today many American critics are inclined to agree in this judgment. The distinction is one to which he is well entitled. He is sometimes considered an agrarian naturalist in the manner of Erskine Caldwell; actually he is more meaningful and profound, as well as more artistically original, than any of the American naturalists with the possible exception of Hemingway. His novels are generally laid in rural settings, but the problems they treat are psychological and moral rather than physical. His great subject is the decline of the South: its economic sterility, its moral disintegration, and its struggle to resist the progressive and materialistic civilization of the North.

Student A's paper:

The awarding of the Nobel Prize to Faulkner in 1950 has brought home to the American public the fact that in Europe he is considered the foremost living American author. His naturalism is sometimes compared to that of Erskine Caldwell. Faulkner's naturalism is illustrated by his use of rural settings in his novels. His great subject is the decline of the South: its economic sterility, its moral disintegration, and its struggle to resist the progressive and materialistic civilization of the North.

Student A has plagiarized both ideas and words by presenting them as his own without any footnotes at all. He has violated the Honor Code.

Student B's paper:

The awarding of the Nobel Prize to Faulkner in 1950 has brought home to the American public the fact that in Europe he is considered the foremost living American author. His naturalism is sometimes compared to that of Erskine Caldwell. Faulkner's naturalism is illustrated by his use of rural settings in his novels. His great subject is the decline of the South: its economic sterility, its moral disintegration and its struggle to resist the progressive and materialistic civilization of the North.[1]

[1]Donald Heiney, Recent American Literature, (Great Neck, New York: Barron's Educational Series, 1958), p.208.

Student B has given credit for the borrowed ideas by his footnote, but not for the words, which are also borrowed in places. Although a few words are changed there are still complete sentences lifted intact from the original work without giving credit for the author's words. Student B also has violated the Honor Code.

Student C's paper:

Faulkner's great talent has made him "the foremost living American author" to European critics. The rural settings of many of his novels illustrate his naturalism which is often compared with that of Erskine Caldwell. The central theme of Faulkner's novels is the decline of the South.[2]

[1]Donald Heiney, Recent American Literature, (Great Neck, New York: Barron's Educational Series, 1958) p. 208.
[2]Ibid.

Student C has given credit for both the phrase "the foremost living American author" and for the ideas borrowed. He has given proper credit.

4. A FINAL REMINDER

If you have any questions, it is your responsibility to ask your teacher exactly what he requires in a paper that requires research or documentation. Let us remind you that this applies to all full-time and part-time undergraduate students whether in day or night classes.

ALMA MATER

(Words by James Church Alvord)

Where the sleepy, silver bayou
Gleams among the pines,
Watching o'er the throbbing city
Alma Mater shines.

(Chorus) Forward, forward, Centenary—
Time and tide may fail,
But our hearts shall love thee ever—
Centenary, Hail!

Like a wave the mighty city
Surges 'round thy feet.
Guide it, train it, teach it wisdom,
Alma Mater sweet.

Green the boughs that rustle 'round thee
On thy stately crest;
Greener is our mem'ry of thee—
Alma Mater blest.
